
How Money Talks – Saturday 20th May (10am-4pm)

Lesley Murdin

Venue: Buckingham Suite, Britannia Café (next to Norwich Prison), Britannia Road, Norwich
NR1 4LU

Fee: £65.00 (Catalyst £45.00 / Catalyst Trainee £35.00)

This workshop will provide an opportunity to consider some of the ways in which money talks for the clients who come to us and the ways in which clients and therapists hear the messages. We will look at the nature of greed and the ways in which both therapists and clients deal with their wish to accumulate more. For most practitioners there are practical questions about the setting of fees and dealing with debts, gifts and even thefts. Both theory and clinical experience will be brought in to help us to arrive at more helpful formulations of these difficulties.

Lesley Murdin is a psychodynamic counsellor and psychoanalytic psychotherapist trained at WPF where she eventually became Director. She has taught and supervised therapists there and in other organisations. She has chaired the UKCP Ethics committee and currently chairs panels to hear complaints for BPC. She has written books and papers including How Money Talks published in 2012 by Karnac.
